

Another feather in our Cap... Well done South Sudan Team!

Sr. Maila and her team in South Sudan organised a workshop last week for the Military and Police forces on Gender Based Violence and it made news in the Country!

Together let us protect our women from violence, was the passionate and inspiring message for the Military and Police forces attending the workshop. The workshop is part of the overall GBV program implemented by SDMIC in South Sudan.

GBV weakens the health, dignity, protection and autonomy of women. It has been a major issue in South Sudan with physical violence, domestic violence, early and forced marriage as well as sexual violence being reported across the country.

With the support of Norwegian Church Council, Our South Sudan program has been working on Sensitizing and preventing Gender Based Violence (GBV) among post conflict affected South Sudanese Communities. "Empowering post-conflict communities towards realization of dignity and rights of women and creating an environment conducive for women devoid of violence by year 2020" has been the main objective of the program.

Congratulations to our Team in South Sudan! Keep up the great work!
